Eyewitness evidence is often viewed as a critical piece of the investigative puzzle, the utility of which can be further enhanced by the pursuit of other corroborative evidence. Sometimes, even after a thorough investigation, an eyewitness identification is the sole piece of evidence. It is in those cases in particular where careful use of this Guide may be most important. Purpose and Scope of the Project After reviewing the National Institute of Justice Research Report, Convicted by Juries, Exonerated by Science: Case Studies in the Use of DNA Evidence to Establish Innocence After Trial, Attorney General Janet Reno directed NIJ to address the pitfalls in those investigations that may have contributed to wrongful convictions. The most compelling evidence in the majority of those 28 cases was the eyewitness testimony presented at trial. NIJ initiated this study in May 1998 with the primary purpose of recommending best practices and procedures for the criminal justice community to employ in investigations involving eyewitnesses. Using its Template for Technical Working Groups, NIJ established the Technical Working Group for Eyewitness Evidence to identify, define, and assemble a set of investigative tasks that should be performed in every investigation involving eyewitness evidence to best ensure the accuracy and reliability of this evidence. The initial members of this group were the Planning Panel, a multidisciplinary group of nine professionals brought together to identify...
