Excerpt from Minutes of Proceedings at a Meeting Held at the Thatched House Tavern, St. James s Street, on Saturday, the 5th June, 1858, Relative to the Formation of the Halifax and Quebec Railway: Viscount Bury, M. P., In the Chair My lord, with regard to the mode in which this Meeting should proceed, I beg to say; and it is hardly necessary for me to do so, that I attend here only as a private individual member of Parliament; it is not in my power to state anything here on the part of the Government, of which I am a very humble member. And cannot certainly in any way venture to take upon myself to say what their. Views will be but having taken part in similar operations before, it seems to me that the course you have delineated is very much the sort of course that it would be prudent for us, as well-wishers of the cause, to adopt, which would be likely to make an impression; and. Really, if there is to be any confidence placed in these figures, I do not think you will be calling upon the Government to incur any. Prodigious risk. (hear, hear.) I must say, I think that the cause is one of such great importance, since it would enable us during one half of the year, during which at present communication is totally intercepted, to establish, by means of a railway, facilities of conveyance and communication between these three provinces. That in a national. Point of view you might fairly ask of the Government to make some pecuniary sacrifice. In order to achieve it (hear; hear); but it seems to me, also. If...
