Not a wall, not a stone, of the ancient structure is now to be seen! Bones, which had reposed within the precincts of the church, or in the exterior cemetery, are sometimes dug up. A solitary yew and half-leveled mounds, which shew the extent of the premises, on the summit of the hill and the fides sloping to the fun, are the only indications of former splendor! Among the various charters and other original instruments, relating to this Priory, which are preserved in the archives of the college, I have only found one mutilated impression of the conventual seal; but as it has never been engraved or described, such as it is, it shall be given to the reader, and in the appendix an improved list of the priors6. f One of these, unum stangnum--prope stangnum conventuale...
