Reviews

Undoubtedly, this is the best work by any author. It is really simplified but shocks within the 50 % in the publication. Its been written in an extremely straightforward way and is particularly just following i finished reading this publication by which basically altered me, modify the way in my opinion.

Not illustrated. 1891 Excerpt: .who are imprisoned in county penitentiaries, or even those felons which in some states are confined in houses of correction or jails. This bulletin therefore affords only an approximate indication of the numbers of convicted felons. In respect to color the convicts are divided as follows: --Of the 30,546 white convicts 23,094 are native born. A further analysis shows that the foreign population of the country constitutes, directly or indirectly, in the persons of the foreign born or their immediate descendants considerably more material for state prisons than the entire native population, the difference being represented by 1009. Of the penitentiary convicts 1791 are women, or less than 4 per cent as compared with 4.5 per cent in 1880. The states in which there has been both an absolute and relative decrease in the number of the convicts are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Michigan, Alabama, Mississippi, Nevada, and Wyoming. No. 32, Feb. 24, 1891. Distribution of Population in Accordance with Mean Annual Rainfall. By Henry Gannett. Pp. 4. Three-fourths of the population inhabit the region in which the annual rainfall is between 30 and 50 inches. A table is published showing the percentage of the population found in each grade of rainfall in 1870, 1880, and 1890, and the density of population in each grade at the same period. No. 33.
